LA PORTE, Tex. (AP) — Residents of this seaport town began dropping on the streets today from gas escaping from a chemical plant. The plant shut down immediately and the danger was declared ended. Thirty or 40 persons were overcome.

The town of 5,000 was on the verge of panic for about a half-hour.

The gas, which came from a plant making industrial chemicals, was believed to be FAG gas, used in the First World War. Sometimes known as tiring gas, it causes extreme nausea and fatigue but is not fatal.

Crowds Rack Up Regatta Profit

DOREEN SERWA
... honors for Kelowna

Lovely Doreen In Third Spot Miss Canada

Doreen Serwa, 22-year-old Kelowna school teacher, Thursday won third place in the 1961 Miss Canada contest staged at Burlington, Ont.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Serwa, 1128 Pacific Ave.

"It's a great moment for us," said Mrs. Serwa today. "Oh! We're so happy and proud! It's wonderful that something like this should happen to Doreen just now — when she's about to be married and start a new phase of her life."

Doreen is engaged to Philip Large, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Large, 572 Lawrence Ave., and they plan to marry "very, very shortly." He is studying engineering at the University of British Columbia.

Doreen was speaking to her mother by long distance telephone this morning and told of a wonderful week. Even if she had not featured in the honors list, she said, it would have ranked as the greatest experience of her life.

Kindness was showered on her all through the contest, she added. She was particularly happy to receive the flowers and telegrams of congratulations from Kelowna well wishers.

She wins a $500 scholarship which she intends to apply in musical training.

She was crowned Lady-of-the-Lake here in the 1956 Regatta.

She will be flying home tonight from Vancouver and is scheduled to arrive at 7:30 p.m.

REGATTA ROUNDS

By W. BEAVER-JONES

Airport opening reflections ... crowds and more crowds ... little children hanging on to the skirts of weary mothers ... crying children ... happy children ... aircraft and more aircraft ... VIPs and more VIPs ... people fainting ... others seeking shelter from a blazing sun.

But it was a grand show. The organizers are to be congratulated for arranging the program, right down to the minute detail. And whoever thought of running a special train, a double hour, quiet Traffic on Highway 97 was like any normal day. But were it not for the special train, history of five years ago would have repeated itself.

The RCMP, military police and civilians, especially Ken Harding did an excellent job in policing cars as they entered the airport. And when the show was all over, cars were sent home in an orderly manner.

Thanks to the co-operation of TCA, that huge Constellation plane was flown directly to Kelowna, making only two stops after taking off from London, England, the night before. The jet airliner left Britain Wednesday evening, made one stop at realized by the time the curtain comes down tomorrow night.

For two consecutive nights, near capacity crowds have witnessed the evening shows. And judging by the way tickets are going this morning, attendance at the "Aqua Rhythms of 1960" tonight and Saturday will be about the same.

Today attention again switched to the water pool events following the official opening Thursday afternoon of the Kelowna Airport. Close to 7,500 people witnessed the event, despite the blazing sun which sent the temperature soaring to an unofficial 112 degrees.

FINAL DAY "PROFIT"

A member of the regatta finance committee pointed out that receipts from the first three days generally offset expenditures. All money taken in on the final day is normally considered profit.

Weeks before the regatta, committee members were warned to keep expenditures to a minimum; that any "extra ordinary" expenses must be approved by special voucher.

Visitors from near and far are still raving over Kelowna's annual "do". For many, it was the first time they had visited the Orchard City, to say nothing about attending a regatta.

Transport Minister George Hees, who officially opened the airport Thursday afternoon, regrettably boarded a huge airliner this morning for Victoria. Before leaving, he remarked that he had "never seen anything so spectacular in such a beautiful city."

Premier W. A. C. Bennett also returned to the provincial capital this morning. It is doubtful if he will return before the windup of the upcoming B.C. election campaign.

This afternoon competition in the swimming events was stepped up, as eyes were focussed on Ogopogo pool. The swimming events will enter the home stretch Saturday.

POWER BOAT RACES

Another major feature in tomorrow afternoon's program will be the power boat races. Sleek-looking hydrocs in the 136, 280, 135, 225, and 266 cubic inch classes have been entered from various points in the Pacific Northwest. Another added feature will be the 7 litre hydro races, the first time they have been held at the regatta. The open water events get underway at 1:30 p.m.

Before the curtain comes down on the 1960 show Saturday night, Lady-of-the-Lake Kathy Hillier will turn her crown over to Lady-elect Valerie Deacon, while Kathy Letner and Loralee Turgoose will step down in favor of the newly-chosen Ladies-in-Waiting, Gloria Ritchie and Marilyn Gregory.

RCMP On Alert For Bogus Bills

RCMP in Kelowna have been alerted to the possibility of counterfeit money circulating in the area.

The bills, passed widely in eastern Canada, have not appeared here, but police say "it is entirely possible" the bogus currency could be circulated in a heavily populated area such as this city during Regatta week.

The serial numbers of the counterfeit money follow: N/D 9165235, F/D 8325229, F/D 847863, G/D 8682006, G/D 1829771 and U/D 8725017.

Winnipeg before landing at Vancouver. Plane stopped long enough to unload passengers, refuel and change crews before taking off for Kelowna Thursday morning.

Transport Minister George Hees was very complimentary about Kelowna. And the remarks he made at the CFA-sponsored luncheon Thursday noon and at the airport, were sincere. The transport minister paid tribute to the citizens of Kelowna for their vision in securing the airport land and subsequent development of a special train, a double hour, quiet Traffic on Highway 97 was like any normal day. But were it not for the special train, history of five years ago would have repeated itself.

Another bouquet Mr. Hees threw out concerned the city's hospitality and the regatta. The cabinet minister said when he returns to Ottawa he would not hesitate in recommending a vacation in Kelowna. Regarding the Regatta, the first one he had seen, Mr. Hees said it "is the finest one the continent — if not in the whole world." He was amazed at the wonderful setting for such an event.

Forests In Flame Again, Smoke Pall Hinders Fight

Lightning Starts New Fiery Dance

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Hampered by a huge smoke pall which renders ranger lookouts and water bombers helpless, foresters in the Prince George district today face a new rash of fires started by a fierce but almost dry overnight thunderstorm.

More than 60 fires are now burning in the district, more than half of them started by electrical storms during the last 48 hours.

The fires include a 10,000-acre blaze hopelessly out of control in the Burnt Creek area south of Chetwynd which sent firefighters fleeing for their lives earlier this week.

Worst hit by Thursday night's storm was the Fort St. James area 100 miles northwest of here where 13 new outbreaks were reported. A 50-mile-an-hour wind fanned fires during the storm but little rain was reported, barely 7-10ths of an inch falling here.

TRIANGLE CLOSED

The forest service early today placed a vast triangle of timberland in the south Peace River area out of bounds to campers and hikers. The area runs from the Peace on the B.C.-Alberta border to McBride, southeast of Prince George, and Finlay Forks.

Only recreational activity exempted from the ban is fishing from boats on lakes which have direct access from a highway.

Twenty-two new fires started by lightning were reported in the 150,000 square mile district Thursday and further outbreaks were expected to be discovered today.

CLOSURE EXTENDED

The forest service also has extended its general forest closure in the coastal Vancouver forest district.

A steady decrease in the number of fires in the Kamloops district where B.C.'s $2,000,000 forest fire war began this year was reversed Thursday.

More than 1,300 men and 98 bulldozers were fighting 185 fires including 17 that were reported in the last 24 hours. The forest service appealed for 30 more men this morning.

Water bombers were attacking fires at Squam Bay in the Adams Lake area which was burning out of control at Little Fort and Mount Oke, north of here.

The Lac Le Jeune fire, that burned over 10,000 acres before being brought under control two weeks ago, started to break out again.

CCF CHIEF

Hazen Argue, above, has shed his title of House leader of the CCF to become the party's third national leader. Weeks of manoeuvring and three hectic days of intrigue and a surge of revolt from the ranks carried the 39-year-old Mr. Argue into the post, succeeding M. J. Coldwell, leader since 1940.

U.S. Sends Man Higher Than Ever — 24 Miles Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States today sent a man rocketing higher into the heavens than ever before to climb a series of four space achievements within less than 24 hours.

Maj. Robert M. White, an air force test pilot, guided the experimental X-15 to an altitude of more than 24 miles.

His flight followed the recovery of a space capsule fired back to earth from an orbiting satellite—the first time in 13 tries. The 200-pound instrument-laden capsule carried by Discoverer XIII was snatched from the Pacific Ocean near Hawaii.

The feat buoyed hopes of scientists working on man-in-space and spy-in-sky programs.

RENOMINATED

Sitting member Hugh Shantz, above, was re-nominated as Social Credit's candidate for North Okanagan in the Sept. 12 provincial election. Mr. Shantz, an insurance agent, was speaker of the last legislature. He told the nominating convention the government will announce within a week a rebuilding date for the Shuswap Lake bridge.

Dag Arrives With Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (Reuters) — Dag Hammarskjöld arrived here by air today at the head of 300 Swedish United Nations troops in a bid to settle the international crisis caused by Katanga's secessionist regime.

Katanga Premier Moïse Tshombe staged the best military show he could for the UN secretary-general.

More than 100 steel-helmeted Katanga military police paraded with their Belgian officers on the air strip in this provincial capital. Five armored cars lined up at the edge of the runway.

LUNCHEON LACKED NOTHING, EVEN LEIS

Food from the four corners of the world. Pineapple from Hawaii ... sirloin beef from Argentina ... B.C. salmon ... turkey from the prairies ... Virginia baked ham ... Boston lettuce ... tomatoes from Mexico ... Okanagan fruit ... cheese from de Montis caterers in Rome ...

These were but a few of the tasty items on the menu at the Canadian Pacific Airlines-sponsored luncheon held at the Aquatic Thursday afternoon. Echo 1, designed to pave the way for a worldwide communications system.

And to top everything, CPA president Grant McConachie arranged to have leis flown from Hawaii to add a colorful touch to Milady's costume.

A SECTION OF THE HUGE CROWD AT THE AIRPORT OPENING

Hees Hails Airport As "Big Step", Promises Greater Things To Come

By AL CAMPBELL
Courier Staff Writer

Firing a signal flare into the air, Hon. George Hees, minister of transport, Thursday declared Kelowna's reconstructed airport officially open.

He told close to 7,500 spectators and guests gathered in 112-degree heat the event was "a great step in the history of Kelowna and the Okanagan."

His address marked the end of a 10-month paving and reconstruction project at the Ellison site, that culminated in the present 5,350-foot stretch of first-class black-top runway. The job cost more than $400,000.

The new strip is now capable of handling aircraft as large as Viscount class, and is considered only a sample of things to come.

in even further development of air travel and freight routes for the Valley. He assured those present that additional ground terminal facilities would be installed as the need arose.

"We will not be backward in backing you up."

EXPANSION PLANS

The minister spoke of a Canada-wide government policy for a $1,000,000,000 expansion program for airports.

He said the scheme called for a "50-50 split" of capital and operational costs for "new, larger and stronger runways."

"You show the need, and we will give you the facilities," he said.

In closing, Mr. Hees spoke in glowing terms of the Kelowna area, calling it "the most progressive, go-ahead area I know."

Earlier in the ceremonies, soprano Teresa Stratas put the sun-baked crowd "in the mood," singing O Canada from the steps of a Bristol Britannia aircraft.

A jump was made onto the airstrip by a member of the Vancouver Sky-Diving Club.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson called the affair "a day many of us have dreamed of for many years."

He recalled a 20-minute meeting with transport department officials in Ottawa made in June of 1958, and said the parley was "the birth of the paving of the Kelowna Airport."

He lauded the co-operation of the provincial government in the city's efforts to acquire additional land for the site.

HEAVILY FINED

VERNON (CP) — Benny Koebornick, 21, of Vernon was fined $250 with an alternate of three months in jail Thursday for contributing to juvenile delinquency. RCMP said Koebornick and four juveniles were found with liquor in a car, and one juvenile was so intoxicated he had to be carried from the car by police.

ARMSTRONG SOCIAL NOTES

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Dahms of Kenwick, Ont., and their two children are visiting at the homes of Dr. W. B. MacKeechie and Mr. and Mrs. Ken McKechnie. Mrs. Dahms is a great niece of Dr. McKechnie's.

Penticton visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Saby were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Saby with their small son Jeffrey.

Case Of Worthless Bonds Still Plagues City Council

ARMSTRONG, B.C. (CP) — A clerk suspected of heading for the hills five years ago with a batch of worthless bonds is still causing headaches for this Okanagan Valley city.

City council has denied all responsibility for the bonds, in the latest development in a tiff between council and the Royal Bank of Canada.

The case began in 1954 when Armstrong printed 32 debentures for $1,000 each for road improvements. The municipal affairs department in Victoria rejected them because of a printing error, and they were ordered destroyed.

In December, 1955, city clerk George Mullen disappeared and shortly after a debenture was cashed in Vancouver. The city was reimbursed from the defuncting clerk's personal bond.

Then in Elliot Lake, Ont., some of the bonds were used last year as security on a substantial loan. The borrower allegedly Mullen disappeared and the Royal Bank now holds Armstrong responsible for the $6,000 it loaned.

And despite a warrant out for Mullen's arrest charging him with theft, the clerk remains at large. Also at large are 22 of the old bonds.

FORMER FERRY TO BE TURNED OVER TO CITY OF VERNON MON.

VERNON (CP) — The city of Vernon will get a former government ferry Monday from Highways Minister Gagliardi, although it is still not exactly certain what to do with the vessel.

The ferry, used between Kelowna and Westbank, before the Okanagan Bridge was opened, was bought, minus its motor and other equipment, by Vernon for $1.

Mayor Frank Becker, who thinks the vessel is worth $250,000, says it will be used in regattas and as a swimming float.

Quebec Rioters Hold Trio Prisoners In Factory

TERREBONNE, Que. (CP) — A week-long strike of 60 furniture factory employees erupted violently Thursday night when rioters held three men prisoners.

The men were finally led from the plant under escort early today after provincial police dispersed a mob that swelled to nearly 1,000 persons at one time and left the exterior of the plant in shambles.

Police said arrests would be made later today. No one was injured.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO UPSET

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Mrs. B. Campbell is in hospital after an accident about a mile east of Armstrong at the Powerhouse Road and Lansdowne intersection on Highway 97A.

Driver of the small car involved was Mrs. H. Powell of Sorrento, B.C. Campbell, it is believed, was travelling toward Vernon when, in an attempt to pass a gravel truck, Mrs. Powell lost control of the car, which rolled over twice and landed upside down against a telephone pole.

Mrs. Powell was not hurt but Mrs. Campbell is in hospital with head injuries and possible chest injury, although her condition is not considered serious.

Trapped in the Blitrite Furniture Manufacturing Incorporated plant were sales manager Gordon Kaufman, secretary - treasurer Moe Bulua, and office clerk Gordon Lavigne.

Kaufman, in a telephone call to The Canadian Press in Montreal, 10 miles south of Terrebonne, said at 10 p. m.:

"I'm not just going to give you a story. We want help."

Kaufman said he and the other men tried to leave the plant at 3:30 p. m. but were stopped by a threatening mob that steadily grew in size and by 10 p. m. was beyond the control of the town's four-man police force.

"I've called the provincial police, but they can't come in until the mayor asks them to and he won't admit the situation is out of hand," Kaufman said.

Mayor Leon Martel could not be reached for comment.

At 11:30 p. m., 25 provincial policemen arrived at the scene. Most of the crowd drifted away, leaving a core of about 150 men and women.

Kaufman, Bulua and Lavigne left the plant at 3:45 a. m. and went home.

"You can't appreciate the terrible violence of the crowd three or four hours ago when they came towards the plant," the sales manager said.

Police said all the windows were broken, the car was overturned and other damage was done to the plant.

Kaufman said the upholsterers International Union of North America (CIU) last week was recognized as bargaining agent for the company's employees.

The employees immediately walked out, though there had been no contract talks or negotiations, he said. Wednesday, Blitrite hired a number of new employees. Thursday, no one showed up for work.

Union organizer Robert Rouillard said the upholsterers had approached the company about a contract but talks collapsed. This precipitated the strike, he said.

It's sabotage! Canadian Press correspondent James (Herald) from Penticton: "Is the monster of Lake Okanagan passing up the Kelowna Regatta, now in progress? Penticton visitors Keith Pearson of Vancouver and Jack McLeod of Quesnel report they saw Ogopogo in Skaha Lake Tuesday night, far from his Lake Okanagan home." Comment from a member of the "I Believe in Ogopogo Club": "Well at least Penticton admits Ogopogo prefers the lake water in the vicinity of Kelowna. But how could he possibly swim through the shallow creek channel adjoining the two lakes?"

Crowd glances... "We used to shoot prairie chicken out here years ago," remarked veteran physician Dr. W. J. Knox to several post-war residents. Another interesting spectator was B. Leacock, now retired, who lives in Calgary. A former teacher at the Calgary Technical School, Mr. Leacock has been coming to Kelowna for 13 consecutive years on his vacation. It was while visiting here that he met J. W. Hughes, who in turn sends gladwills every year to the Calgary shut-ins. Another interested spectator was ex-Vancouver P. O. reporter Robert Alexander, who is now playing golf at Salem, Ore. This was Bob's first visit to Kelowna. Reason for coming? His wife Ruth, a friend of Mrs. Cook, who knew the Calgarys would be here for the Regatta. And ex-mayors W. B. Hughes-Games and Alex McKelvin, no doubt were thinking of the days when Kelowna was a much smaller city, as they looked around at the 7,500-plus spectators at the airport ceremony.

Two American air force jets broke the sound barrier as they zoomed over the airport. This would have meant they would have to be travelling at over 760 miles an hour. "What did he say?" someone quipped after the jets roared over the crowd. Popular MP Dave Pugh was speaking at the time. It was the first many Kelownians had witnessed of the sound barrier being cracked.

Curbside scenes on the Regatta parade:

One of the Four Knights giving a special wave to a group of women leaning out a top-story window at the Post Office... Vancouver Mayor Tom Alsbury and his wife to whom we say "Welcome!" along with all others who have traded the coast's heat wave for our Regatta-bund weather... Tony Bull driving one of the VIP cars... Wilma Houde, Rock Creek's contribution to parade pulchritude, twinkling at one of the boys...

Did you ever see as much polish as on that super-smart Royal Canadian Engineers Band, unless on the grand old 1825 Lincoln of J. Eric Sowerby of Kamloops?

Women (why is it always they?) feeling sorry for the scarlet-coated Mounties in bakelung suit. But what about the forest conservation bear, who looked mighty like brain of the Lady-of-the-Lake pagant? Gets around, that guy.

Mrs. Potthecary Speaks To Group

VERNON (Staff) — The CCF Women's Council introduced the candidate for North Okanagan, Mrs. Isabel Potthecary, to the membership and friends at a tea in the Elk's Hall Wednesday afternoon.

Chairman Mrs. Bob Richards called on Mrs. W. Sproule of Oyama to introduce Mrs. Potthecary.

In her brief address, she outlined the policies of CCF, stressing the need for changes in social welfare, control of power resources, and the need for equality of opportunity for the small operators in the logging industry.

Mrs. John Lindner, secretary of the campaign committee, told the council of ways in which members could assist in the campaign.

Socred Campaign To Be Launched On Monday Night

VERNON (Staff) — The Social Credit party will "kick off" its campaign locally Monday night.

Highways Minister Gagliardi will speak on behalf of Socred North Okanagan candidate Hugh Shantz at the Oddfellow's hall at 8 p. m. Mr. Shantz was renominated Thursday night at the nominating convention at Armstrong.

He has been a member for eight years and recently was speaker of the Legislature.

At noon Monday, Mayor Frank Becker and members of the city council will be host to the highways minister at a luncheon. Mr. Shantz will also be in attendance.

At 4:00 p. m., Mr. Gagliardi will present a former government ferry to Mayor Frank Becker at an official ceremony at Okanagan Landing.

South Lumby Group Improves Playgrounds

LUMBY (Correspondent) — The men of the Mill Road got together recently for a good old-fashioned work ben on their South Lumby playgrounds. Two new buildings and a fence are the projects at the moment. Turned to be outdone, two women turned out to lend willing hands.

Another get-together is being planned.

Busy Program Ahead For U.K. Dairy Queen

VERNON (Staff) — The United Kingdom's dairy queen will visit the Okanagan in mid-September. According to an official report from J. C. Palmer, director of dairying for Ontario, there were 4,500 entrants in the United Kingdom dairy queen final competition.

The winner, lovely 21-year-old Eirian Griffith Evans, is Welsh. Eirian will arrive in the Okanagan Sept. 16. The following day she will be guest of the Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong. Plans for her entertainment Sept. 18 includes a breakfast in the Allison Hotel attended by Mayor Frank Becker and a visit to the farm of B. C. Palfrey in the Coldstream district, where she will have an opportunity to see some of the province's finest Jersey cattle. Later she will have lunch at the Kelowna Aquatic, then visit the NOCA dairy plant in Kelowna, and one of the Kelowna dairy farms.

It is hoped that while in Kelowna, Eirian will also meet Mayor R. F. Parkinson, on Sunday, Sept. 18, North Okanagan dairy princess, Joyce Molliet, will accompany Eirian throughout the day until she boards the plane for Vancouver, leaving from the Penticton airport.

A dairy farm in Wales, operating in her spare time. They have 14 cows in their herd. She is also a good tractor driver, excellent at haymaking and gardening.

SINGER — Like many Welsh people, Eirian is a fine singer. She has had some professional training but says she has no aspirations in this direction. She sings solely for pleasure.

On her return to the United Kingdom, she will make personal appearance on behalf of the dairy industry during her year in office.

Meanwhile, the British Columbia finals for the dairy princess competition will take place at the Pacific National Exhibition Sept. 2. Winner of this competition will represent British Columbia at the National Exhibition in Toronto next year.

Miss Molliet will appear in this final competition for the title of B.C. dairy princess. She, along with other candidates, will assemble at the livestock building, superintendent's building, at 10:30 a.m. for their final instructions. Joyce will be wearing slacks.

All B.C. Industries Urged To Study Job Prospects

VICTORIA (CP) — The British Columbia Research Council, in a report which took two years to compile, says a large-scale effort to attract winter tourists may help relieve seasonal unemployment in the province.

The study, jointly financed by the provincial and federal governments, recommends that all industries study the prospects of more jobs. Emphasis should be in the lumber industry, where heavy layoffs have a serious effect on the economy.

A forestry winter works program including planting of nursery stock in deforested areas, reclamation and reforestation of logged or burned lands and thinning and pruning of managed trees would stimulate the economy during "off" periods in B.C.'s largest industry.

In the fishing industry, the province's second largest, consideration should be given to exploring new species and finding new markets.

The report says organizations should be set up throughout the province to consider job possibilities. It recommends Unemployment Insurance Commission benefit payments be put on a seasonal basis so larger amounts would be available to persons out of work for long spells.

The council found manpower requirements of construction, logging and sawmill operations are decreased at approximately the same time in winter. The establishment of "New town" settlements is urged in areas where there are year-round logging operations. Funds available under the National Housing Act could be used in such projects.

The report was prepared by Dr. John Deutch, former head of the economics department of University of B.C. and now at Queen's University at Kingston, Ont. He was assisted by the late Prof. R. M. Clark, also of UBC.

More than 40 friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick MacDonald to honor Sonja Anderson in her forthcoming marriage to Brian Inglis.

Little Judy Wolney pulled in a beautifully decorated wagon loaded with gifts. Miss Anderson was assisted in opening her presents by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, and Miss Mona Rhinhardt.

Mrs. MacDonald was assisted with the lunch by her sister, Mrs. David Peterson, Vernon. Mrs. Ben Bangston, Louise Skoyen and Christine and Ruby MacDonald served.

The ladies of St. James the Less Anglican Church, Lumby, also feted Miss Anderson at a delightful shower in the Anglican Parish Hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and sweet peas.

Miss Anderson's mother, along with Mrs. Michael Inglis and Mrs. Ronald Holmes-Smith assisted the bride in opening many nice gifts.

PCs Would Abolish Amusement Tax

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Progressive - Conservative party is pledged to remove the 10 per cent provincial amusement tax, leader Deane Finlayson said Thursday.

He said removal of the tax "will encourage community entertainment and sports everywhere."

The party also is pledged to abolish bridge and tunnel tolls, sales tax on meals and other "nuisance taxes."

Tax Payments Showing Increase At Armstrong

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Tax paid to date represents 32.8 per cent of the total levy, reported city clerk A. E. Green, meeting this week.

To the same time last year, payments had amounted to 28.9 per cent of the total.

D. C. Bechtold asked reconsideration of the city's decision not to grant him a trade licence to operate a business in Armstrong. Council formerly turned down the request since Mr. Bechtold did not make the required $200 deposit. Mr. Bechtold will be advised that this is a condition of obtaining a licence.

A chain has been put across the road to prevent trespassing on city reservoir grounds. The chain replaces a warning sign. The reservoir is out of bounds to the public.

Man Sought In Alleged Assault

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Police here are looking for a man alleged to have assaulted a six-year-old Lumby girl Thursday night.

The child was accosted while playing with companions on swings at the primary school. A man approached her at about 7:30 p. m., asked her to direct him to a certain residence, and when she accompanied him, gave her a chocolate bar, which the youngster threw in the bushes.

She described the man as not very tall, with black curly hair and a "wide, fat nose." She said he was wearing a black tee shirt, black boots and blue work pants.

Her mother was alone at the time, but a neighbor fetched the child's father who was fishing at Shuswap Falls. He summoned members of the Vernon detachment, RCMP, who are in charge, temporarily, of the Lumby area. Police investigation continues.

Water Bailiffs Start Prosecutions

VERNON (CP) — Three water bailiffs appointed by city council have started prosecutions against a dozen citizens for breaches of the city's water restrictions.

Afternoon sprinkling has been forbidden on alternate days and no more than 10 hours of sprinkling is permitted on any one day.

A construction company, from which a quotation of $9,370 was received for paving a number of city streets, will be advised that council is not in a position to take advantage of this offer.

There is some filling to be done on Okanagan Street before paving can be started.

The paving was for Okanagan Street, Wolfenden Terrace and Wright Avenue. This work would have to be done while the city's equipment was in the district, otherwise hauling costs would make the price too high.

Council discussed the condition of the corner of Rosedale Avenue and Okanagan Street, but no action was taken. The road here is in need of much work, and water collecting there at times complicates the situation.

Mayor Jack Potthecary noted that work should be done by by-laws, as cost would be too high to come out of revenue.

A REGATTA EXTRA

Added Color on Midway

By FRED COLLINS
Daily Courier Staff Writer

No festival, no annual "splash" such as the Kelowna International Regatta would be complete without a midway and its "three-lunged" barkers.

The midway is defined by Thorndike-Barnhart as a "place for side shows and other amusements at a fair," but in actuality, a magical world where an age of 60 is quickly converted to six. It is, in the truest sense, a place where even grandma "can let her socks down."

Such was the case Wednesday night in greenish City Park as hundreds of festively-minded "vagrants" paraded through, over and around countless stands and rides — dodging periodically, youngsters proudly waving their kewpie-doll canes at their beaming parents.

Visitors from any other planet would have turned their ships around if they ever got close enough to witness the wild celebrations below.

REGATTA HATS SEEN

Proudly worn Regatta hats bobbing up and down in the crowd, youngsters begging parents for "just another nickel," fathers carrying exhausted children—it was all there, all a part of the midway.

It was very difficult to determine which—the rides or the amusement booths—drew the most business.

A hazardous guess — although we were, for the most part, stationed in Ogopogo Stadium—would be the rides, where line-ups and jams near the ticket windows attracted our attention.

The pennant-decked side shows offered the public game of the evening, ended up. These "head-quarters for the underdog" offered everything from candy floss to relief—in the form of toothpicks—to popcorn, choplin' visitors.

Rides—for the most part designed to capture and to hold off the imagination of children—also pulled in their share of business. Adults weren't forgotten skill, portrayed best by the ageless family game of darts.

Another definite attraction in the amusement-side of the midway was bingo, which, as we passed on one occasion, had every seat occupied.

Slot machines, where marksmen could best prove their shooting ability to their wives without disappearing into the forest for a "free weekend," also attracted many customers. The various names on these machines were attracting — blood-curdling if you like. One of them, we observed, didn't get nearly the attention the others did, that being a machine known as the "Dragonette."

The few who played "Dragonette" and being the type of "slap-happy" characters they were, usually found themselves directly across from the slot machine booth.

Here one brave gentleman sat suspended over a tank of water, hoping — sometimes out loud — that no one would hit the red circle below with any of the three balls offered for 25 cents. A strike—a bull's eye if you like—sent "automation" working and down sank Neptune into his frequent "bath."

FOOD AVAILABLE

No midway would be complete without a concession booth, a place where everyone, at one time or another during the evening, ended up. These "head-quarters for the underdog" offered everything from candy floss to relief—in the form of toothpicks—to popcorn, choplin' visitors.

Rides—for the most part designed to capture and to hold off the imagination of children—also pulled in their share of business. Adults weren't forgotten either, as many patronized the ferris wheel, roller coaster and tilt-a-whirl.

All the rides, one employee of the Royal Canadian Shows pointed out to this writer, were motivated by a single power plant. Unfortunately he could not give the exact voltage produced.

The total proceeds for this small-time "Mardi Gras" go to furthering the many Kinsmen charities in the Kelowna district.

Demonstrations from sleek boats to polished cookware dotted the booths at the midway closest to the Aquatic Club.

There were — smashing the myth that all circuses are expensive-free shows for both children and adults. A quick-handled magician and dogs performed for the "non-paying" customers in Jubilee Bowl, both drawing fine applause at the show's conclusion.

The sports, the side shows, the beauties, the booths all are helping make the 1960 Regatta "one to remember."

SUGAR FOR U.S.

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters) — Nearly 65,000 tons of Jamaican sugar left for the United States today in the 5,104-ton freighter Sugar Refiner.

Refugee Family Arriving Soon

The first of two European refugee families to be adopted by the Kelowna Catholic parishes is due to arrive Monday evening at Kelowna Airport.

The Ivanji family, comprising the husband and father Istvan and his wife and their four children, will fly from Amsterdam Sunday, arriving at Vancouver via the polar route Monday morning.

They are due to leave Vancouver at 6 p.m. arriving here at 7:40.

Upon arrival here they will be greeted by a reception committee, representing St. Pius X parish. They will be taken to their first home in Canada, a temporary dwelling on an East Kelowna fruit farm.

The two Kelowna parishes formed a combined committee early in the year for the purpose of adopting one family each — paying for their transportation, obtaining housing and employment (for the breadwinner or breadwinners) and looking after them until they are able to take care of themselves.

The adoption of the two families is the contribution of Catholics in the city, Glenmore, Okanagan Mission and East and South Kelowna to the United Nations World Refugee Year.

No word has yet been received as to when the second family, consisting of eight persons, will arrive, but they are expected here before Sept. 15.

"ADOPTED" BY ORCHARD CITY

Veteran Flyer "Kelownian"

By PATRICK ROE
Daily Courier Staff Writer

Ernie Hoy is a Kelownian.

He has spent only five of his 63 years living here, but says that in his youth he was "adopted" by the city, and, in turn, adopted its character and spirit as his creed throughout life.

He was the first man to fly over the Rockies, and as such is being officially feted this Regatta week by the airport opening committee. Unofficially he is a happy voyager returned to the scene of his early inspiration, busily renewing old acquaintances and associations.

That flight over the Rockies in 1919 was a magnificent achievement and stands as a milestone in aviation history, but it is only part of the Ernie Hoy story.

He was 15 years old in 1910 when his father sold his bakery in Vancouver to his (Ernie's) elder brothers, and, with his wife and younger children retired to Kelowna.

LIKED IT HERE

A year later he demonstrated his attachment to his new surroundings by remaining here, when, for reasons of health, his parents moved back to the Coast.

His first job was in the Kelowna Sawmill. After working there for some months, he was employed by George Melkie in the dry goods department of the Thomas Lawson Ltd. store (now Melkie's Ltd.) and remained there until the outbreak of the First World War.

In 1914 he joined the Rocky Mountain Rangers under the command of Capt. George Rose, then proprietor of The Courier.

Following a period of training with the 48th Battalion, Victoria, he went to France in 1915 with the 3rd Pioneer Battalion.

He was invalided from the front in 1917, and, while recuperating in England, transferred to the Royal Flying Corps in which he was granted a commission.

RFC WINNER

Soon back in action, he downed five enemy planes and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Then he endured the classic misadventure of those early days of combat flying—the shooting up of one's own propeller. It happened three months before the armistice and behind the German lines, so, though able to effect a landing of sorts, he was taken prisoner.

Ernie recalls with mirth the exuberant delight of a German sergeant on finding himself the captor of a real live Royal Flying Corps captain. He recalls with a shudder bouncing over cobblestoned streets on a vehicle with iron rimmed wheels, while the proud sergeant kept a cocked loaded revolver leveled on him by way of dramatizing the incident for onlookers.

However, he survived it all and was restored to British Columbia on New Year's day, 1919.

He became active in the Aerial League of Canada from its inception, and it was in one of its five JN-4 aircraft that he made the historic Vancouver to Calgary flight Aug. 7, 1919. In the course of it he touched down at Grand Forks, Cranbrook, Vernon and other communities, each landing presented its own problems for there were no airports at the time.

In 1920 the Canadian Pacific Railway agent in Vancouver was approached by a man who had missed the ferry and wished to charter a tug to take him and some urgently needed films to Victoria. The CPR referred him to Ernie and a flight was arranged.

He says this incident brought home to him the potential of commercial flying and he began pondering the prospects of forming an airlines company—he adds laughingly that CPR might have been having parallel thoughts and nurture them into the CFA.

Later that year Ernie, in co-operation with Gen. Victor Odlum and several prominent Vancouver citizens, set up a company which purchased the world's first Boeing flying boat.

He was at the controls when it needed to be in English Bay on its first take-off, and he admits lack of water experience on his part probably contributed to the mishap. However, when readied for service again, it disappeared while being flown by an experienced flying boat pilot. It was later found turned turtle in the bay, but no trace of the pilot ever came to light.

That was the end of the company.

Shortly afterwards Ernie got married and gave up flying to enter the insurance business, at which he has prospered ever since.

From 1924 to 1940 he represented a Canadian company in Newark, N.J. and sold more than $100,000,000 Canadian insurance on the American market. He was with the same company in Chicago until his semi-retirement in 1955.

He now lives at Clarksville in Georgia where he grazes "a few" cattle on five hundred acres, but he regards it "as a pleasant place to retire" rather than a farming project.

Each month he still commutes by air to Chicago for one week's supervision of his business interests.

He has two children, a son and daughter, and three grandchildren. His son, Ross, has one child and is an advertising executive in Chicago. His daughter, Jane, Mrs. Roland Roberts, is married to a U.S. state department official and has two children. She makes her home in Washington, D.C. when not abroad.

Ernie was here for a visit in 1931 and again in 1952. He has this to say about the city's growth and prosperity: "It was no accident. The spirit was there and the character was there and that's one reason I've always been proud to have been associated with Kelowna."

This week he is staying at the home of Bob Whillits at 1740 Abbott St. They were practically inseparable friends here 50 years, ago and joined up in 1914 and went overseas together.

Ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous, Thursday night's show at the Aquatic amounted to three hours magnificent entertainment.

More than 5,000 people witnessed and delighted in its entrancing acts. At one moment they would be enraptured with the beautiful soprano voice of Teresa Stratras, the next roaring in unison at the crazy antics of diving clowns.

STAG McMAIN, "Master of the Harmonica" acted as MC and added to entertainment with his harmonica solo number.

Barney Potts and his orchestra provided the music and delighted the small fry with a novelty item "The Story of Goldilocks".

She was presented by Mayor R. F. Parkinson with a small token of the city's esteem.

A superb display of diving was given by Dick Kimball, Ed Cole, Hobie Billingsley and Joaquin Capilla, as their initial contribution to proceedings.

CLOWN DIVERS

They followed with a series of comedy acts and it was hard to realize those hilarious clowns stumbling off the boards were the same graceful artists of a few moments before.

The water ballet, featuring Joan McKinley Nagle and her aqua-belles, was a wonderfully lovely spectacle which brought a large section of the audience to its feet seeking a better view.

It was produced in three parts "Salute to Scottish Splendor", "Mermaid's Mirage" and "Land of Ice and Snow".

A great hit was scored by the Four Knights in the final item of the program. Particularly well received was their version of "Mac the Knife".

Annual Parade "Spectacular" Matched Grey-Cup Affair

By FRED COLLINS
Daily Courier Staff Writer

We have been fortunate enough to witness four Grey Cup parades—generally conceded as the best in Canada — live on four different occasions to the Canadian football classic.

With one hand on the Bible, the closest thing we've seen to matching that spectacular was Thursday night's Regatta "extravaganza"—for that is what it was.

A huge throng—no one would even hazard a guess—lined Bernard Ave., from the parade's origin at Ethel St., to its termination point in congested City Park Oval.

Kids—with and without freckles—adults—short ones, tall ones —and even the odd stray dog took in the colorful proceedings.

Just as bright flags hung fluttering in the brisk wind which swept in from Lake Okanagan, so hung at least 200 spectators from the various department store windows and roofs.

One wise-cracking newsman yelled across the street "we're selling spots on our roof for 50 cents. Anyone interested?"

For a time, that was even the place from which we saw a good portion of the parade.

Those on the ground were lined four deep in some places —the front row quaiting on the curbs.

Their dress was as their manner—informal.

Although there were an estimated 90 units in the parade, it moved past swiftly—something just over one hour.

We suspended our line score on the number of units, bands and marching units half-way through the "spectacular"—but we still managed to reach a total of seven bands.

Visiting queens and their princesses received the same amount of applause as did Kelowna's Lady-of-the-Lake, a sign of the Orchard City's hospitality.

A beaming Valerie Deacon and her two princesses, Marilyn Gregory and Gloria Ritchie along with "retiring" royalty Kathy Hillier, Kathy Letner and Lorraine Turgoose acknowledged the throng's applause and "wolf whistles."

Visiting dignitaries, Hon. G. Hees, Hon. S. Fleming, Hon. D. Pugh, Mayor T. Aisbary of Vancouver and countless others formed the first portion of the parade—each perched in the back seat of gleaming convertibles.

Commodore J. J. Behan was there too, with full naval escort marching smartly along side his auto.

The Kelowna Canadian Legion pipe band, dressed in the paraphernalia usually accompanied with Scottish music, drew a particularly noticeable ovation from the crowd near our location.

The list of other units, bands or marching bands is too long to go into detail here—but get it straight, without any one of them the "spectacular" never would have been such a success.

The PNE float, decked with a floral band and carrying three Coast beauties, took first place in the commercial division competition. Kelowna's playground float copied similar honors in the service club competition while Pentleton's Okanagan Swimmer's float was first in the industrial class.

How the judges finalized their difficult decisions, we'll never know.

Cowboys, Indians, 1925 Lincolns, motorcycles, horses (and street sweeper) . . . the Regatta parade had 'em all.

Wen-Gren "Give-Away" Denied By Williston

VICTORIA (CP) — Lands and Forests Minister Williston Thursday night denied a Wenner-Gren "give-away" and said every step is being taken to speed up development of the Columbia river.

He told a crowd of 50 persons attending a Spanish election rally Wenner-Gren interests have been given "not one tree, not one square mile of land, not one gallon of water."

He said members of the opposition who have criticized the government for allegedly pushing the Peace Power proposal over the Columbia river don't know what they are talking about. The critics could not possibly know what B.C.'s actions in Columbia river negotiations have been because the talks between the province and the federal government have been conducted in secrecy.

"We are doing all that is possible to develop the Columbia as soon as possible," he said. An agreement between Canada and the United States on terms of downstream benefits is imminent.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Widow Asks How To End Affair With Undesirable Married Man

Dear Mary Haworth: After my husband passed away, a friend of ours, a married man, paid me a visit; and after several visits we became involved in an affair (though I never could care for him as I did for my husband).

I manage a small business left by my husband; and this man eats, drinks and loafs at my expense, never has paid for anything, nor offered to lend a hand with my work — as he is always "too busy" with his work; or "too tired," or doing errands for his wife or children. Also he has taken money from the cash register and replaced it with I.O.U.s.

He has been kind and considerate to some extent; but I know the affair is wrong and I want to end it. I tell him I am unhappy because of a guilty conscience, but he says this will wear off. He says we are harming nobody and should take happiness where we find it. He really thinks he is doing me a favor.

What is the best way to stop the affair and remain friends? I have become so troubled I cannot sleep and am losing weight. I have been punished enough by worry about this, so I don't need a lecture. I need sound advice, and can't discuss this with my pastor; so please don't fail me. Sincerely, G. Y.

GUILT SENSE FETTERS HER

Dear G. Y.: One of the strongest fetters of sin, that holds many reluctant sinners captive to sin against their will, is a guilty conscience, that puts barriers between them and constructive associations, so that they feel alone and helpless, psychologically, in dealing with the designs of Satan.

Such is the gist of your predicament, I gather. Morally you are putting up a good fight just now, however, in urgently wanting to be freed from this wrong entanglement. But even so, greater courage is required of you.

To break the spell of captivity to evil, and find your way back to humanity—to a sense of fellowship with decent, law abiding, right minded people—you simply must summon the necessary honesty to confess the situation to your pastor, and ask his specialist help in repairing the damage to your life and soul.

To regenerate your spirit, to revive your moral health and self-esteem, you need to experience a clear conviction of God's forgiveness. And Scriptures tell us—1 John 1:9—"If we confess our sins, He (God) is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Your pastor is vocationally qualified to negotiate this healing transaction on your behalf.

GETTING ON BEAM OF GOD'S HELP

As you take these essential first steps towards recovery, you will be putting yourself in line with God's grace, consciously invoking His restorative and protective power to overcome the downward of pernicious habit—with the result that your "fete" won't any longer depend entirely upon your limited store of moral strength, finesse, diplomacy, etc.

The creator of the universe will be the prime mover in routing destructive influences from your path.

When your opportunistic counter learns that you do mean business about putting your life in order, that the sordid affair is no longer a guilty secret between you two, that you have unburdened yourself to your pastor,

Campanologist Visits Kelowna

An interesting visitor to Kelowna is Peter Crook from Bolton, Lancashire, who is visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Paine and family, Pinehurst Crescent. Both Mr. Crook and Mrs. Paine are Campanologists, that is "Bell Ringers," and Mr. Crook has been known as one of the foremost of the forty thousand bell ringers in England for the past 55 years. He is a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths which was formed in 1637, and has never changed its name since that time.

This society holds an annual dinner for England's Bell Ringers on the nearest possible date to Guy Fawkes Day, as Guy Fawkes was himself a Bell Ringer, and at one of these dinners Mr. Crook met Miss Dorothy Sayers the well known English novelist, who Parliament's consent to the maintenance of a standing British army was established in the 17th Century as a result of a struggle between the Commons and the Stuart kings.

Sandra Fraser Favored For Women's Ski Title

Sandra Fraser of North Vancouver has emerged as the favorite to win the overall Canadian women's ski championship. Miss Fraser was the only woman skier to qualify in the jumping events in Thursday's competition at the 54th annual Regatta.

Kelowna's Frances Pestell, who was a strong favorite Wednesday after taking the women's tricks event, failed to qualify yesterday and as a result is out of contention for the overall crown.

ELIMINATED
Miss Pestell, 20, last week won the Western Canadian overall title at Salmon Arm. Yesterday she missed two jumps thus being eliminated from the event.

In the senior men's jumping event, Rod Sampson of Bellevue, Wash., last year's overall western champ, was top man. He beat out George Denniston of Agincourt, Ont. Third was John Godfrey of Kelowna.

Bill Gaddes of Kelowna showed sparkling form in capturing the Okanagan closed jumping event. Fred Schuler, also of Kelowna, placed second.

Another Bellevue skier, Diane Medley, was top performer in the junior girls' competition. Marcia Baird of Lake Stevens and Susan Medley of Bellevue took second and third respectively.

The junior boys' event saw David Williams of Lake Stevens place first and Leonard Hearne

Musial Blasts Home Run To End Lengthy Fixture

By WHITNEY MARTIN Associated Press Staff Writer

Here's a warning to other National League clubs: When playing St. Louis Cardinals don't go into extra innings. The old man in left field is liable to get tired standing around and blast one so he can go home.

The old man is Stan Musial. He's 39, antique as ball players go. Most of them don't even go to 39, they're gone.

The personable fellow blasted one Thursday night when Pittsburgh Pirates persisted in prolonging the game. In the 12th inning Stan smacked a Bob Friend pitch into the stands with a man on base to give the Cards a 3-2 decision and cut Pittsburgh's lead to four games. He had a pair of doubles earlier as a warmup.

Los Angeles Dodgers blanked Cincinnati Redlegs 3-0 and San Francisco Giants nipped Milwaukee Braves 8-7 in other games.

Musial now has a career total of 424 round-trippers. He's been winning a lot of games lately for a man who earlier in the year was benched so new talent would have a chance. Almost daily he adds to his career total of 3,269 hits, and he times his blows nicely.

DID CHANGE HELP?
Maybe it was shifting him to the outfield from first base that was the tonic. It also permitted manager Solly Hemus to rearrange his lineup to get maximum power.

Musial's home run Thursday night broke up a stirring pitching battle between Friend (12-9) and Ernie Broglio (14-5). Each went the distance, Broglio allowing eight hits and Friend 7.

LEOS OPEN BIG
The second-half scoring was done by quarterback Ken Ploen on a weaving 35-yard run, and Ernie Pitts on a 33-yard pass into the end zone from Ploen, some for B.C. Thursday night.

The result was a 35-21 rout by the Bombers before a crowd of 31,837 at Empire Stadium—2,500 less than last year's Canadian record—in the inaugural Western Interprovincial Football Union game.

They saw the Lions fire off all their cannons in the first 30 minutes to take a 19-7 half-time lead, then watched gleefully as the Bombers scored 28 points to B.C.'s two in the second half.

Rookie Bob Jeter, on a half-back toss, went 18 yards for B.C.'s first touchdown and ends Bruce Claridge and Bill Heron caught eight-yard Handy Duncan passes for the other two. Vic Kristopaitis converted one.

ALSO HAD SAFETY
Lions' other two points came at the start of the third quarter when Winnipeg safety Norm Rauhaus intercepted Duncan's pass at the Winnipeg one-yard line and then was tackled in the end zone by Jeter for a two-point safety.

Winnipeg's only score of the first half went to corner liner-backer Rick Potter, who intercepted Duncan's pass at the "Lions' 20 and loped down the sidelines for a touchdown.

Potter, who played a fine game at corner filling in for injured Jack DeLoe, later recovered a Lions fumble that led to a touchdown and got Bombers on the way.

Artist Has Ambitious Plans For Rural Art Centre In Quebec

VAL DAVID, Que. (CP)—In Cartier, and six cottages where this Laurentian village a Bulgarian-born artist is making his dream of a rural art centre a reality.

Christo Stefanoff, who came to Canada in 1951, last month opened a museum and exhibition studio on picturesque Chemin du Lac a La Truite (trout Lake Road) in this village, 45 miles northwest of Montreal.

The art centre features a permanent display of paintings by Stefanoff and other Canadian artists. His most notable work in Canada is a three-dimensional "Cyclorama of Jerusalem," completed last year at the Roman Catholic shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

AMBITIOUS PLANS

Stefanoff, who lives in an apartment adjoining the picture-windowed studio, has ambitious plans for his centre. He hopes to invite the Montreal Symphony Orchestra to play in a 1,000-seat amphitheatre, to be carved out of a nearby mountainside.

Other schemes call for a circular building for exhibition of a permanent three-dimensional panorama depicting the discovery of the St. Lawrence by Jacques and freedom to work.

MODEL OF CROWN

Mr. Allan deals with the firm's business matters. There are undoubtedly Canadians who have seen items from Paris House before, although possibly they were not aware of it at the time. The Allans have, for many years, supplied all the jewelry for Madame Tussaud's, London's wax museum. The most recent addition is a model of the Imperial state crown.

And jewelry is not the only thing made by Paris House. It is known also for its hand-made belts, some of which are used by such top fashion houses as Norman Hartnell, Hardy Amies and Victor Stiebel.

The Royal crest on the window of the tasteful little shop indicates that Paris House also provides belts for the Queen.

Greenland Progressing With Modern Habits

By JEFFREY DODD

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Greenland, the largest island in the Northern Hemisphere, but only thinly settled with small towns and outposts near the coast, will soon emerge from the age of the skin kayak.

Investment programs are planned, and the big island, given to Denmark by a decree of the International Court at The Hague in 1933, now is being prospected for minerals. Uranium has already been found in several places.

Hoping to lighten the burden on the Greenland population as the change is made from ancient to modern, the Danish government has set up a committee to survey the country and plan for the future. The committee recently travelled extensively through the island, which is a part of mainland Denmark and does not have colonial status.

Several major problems must be faced in Greenland in the near future. Answering a call to move into the towns and work at newly started businesses and industries, many Greenlanders have moved from the small scattered settlements into the larger centres of population, only to find little work available for unskilled persons and a housing problem which has increased with every new arrival.

SEASONAL WORK

Dominated by the rigorous climate, most work in Greenland is seasonal, with a big demand for labor only in the summer season. Relations between the old town residents and the new arrivals are not always happy. The newcomers who fail to find the jobs they expected have difficulty in earning money and find little acceptance among the rest of the residents.

Even more serious is the state of health. Dr. Presben Smith of the Greenland health service recently reported that almost all of the native population suffers from malnutrition and that wage rates paid to native workers are too low to enable them to buy food for a family.

Paint Splattered On "Spirit" Rocks

KENORA, Ont. (CP)—Indians credit rocks found in the Kenora area of Northwestern Ontario with containing powerful "spirits."

They have been known to remove new clothes and leave them at Devil's Gap Rock, a famous landmark of the Woods Lake area, to seek the favor of the "spirit" within for abundant blueberry crops and fish catches.

Indian art has covered the so-called "spirit" rocks with fancy face designs using a paint made from juices of berries, spruce gum and fish oils mixed with minerals.

However, vil's Gap Rock recently was splattered with ordinary manufactured paint. Police, who believe the disfigurement a result of a childish prank, are investigating.

U.S. Claims Khrushchev Fishing For Invitations

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities believe Soviet Premier Khrushchev is strongly tempted to carry his violent propaganda campaign against the United States personally into the United Nations General Assembly.

Khrushchev said this week he would consider it "a great honor" to attend the meeting opening in New York next month and to discuss disarmament proposals. But he has not said yet he will attend.

One reason for his hesitation may be his apparent failure so far to obtain invitations from Latin-American countries other than Cuba to make personal visits to them.

The belief here is that Khrushchev would like to combine a flying trip to the UN with a grand tour of as many U.S. neighbor nations as would welcome him. He has been fishing for such invitations, U.S. officials said, ever since it was announced earlier this year that he would visit Cuba at some unannounced date.

MOST GOVERNMENTS COOL

But Central and South American rulers, concerned over expanding Soviet ties with Cuba and Khrushchev's hostility to the United States, have been cold to his show of interest.

The reported widespread concern in other American capitals about Cuba's swing toward communism is expected to help U.S. effort at a foreign ministers' meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica, next week to rally support for pressures against Soviet intervention in the Cuban situation.

State Secretary Christian Herter and his associates are not so much concerned about Khrushchev's propaganda-making as they are about the tendency he has displayed in recent months to make or imply commitments of Soviet military power far outside the range of Soviet defence interests.

Covered Bridge Spared Wreckers

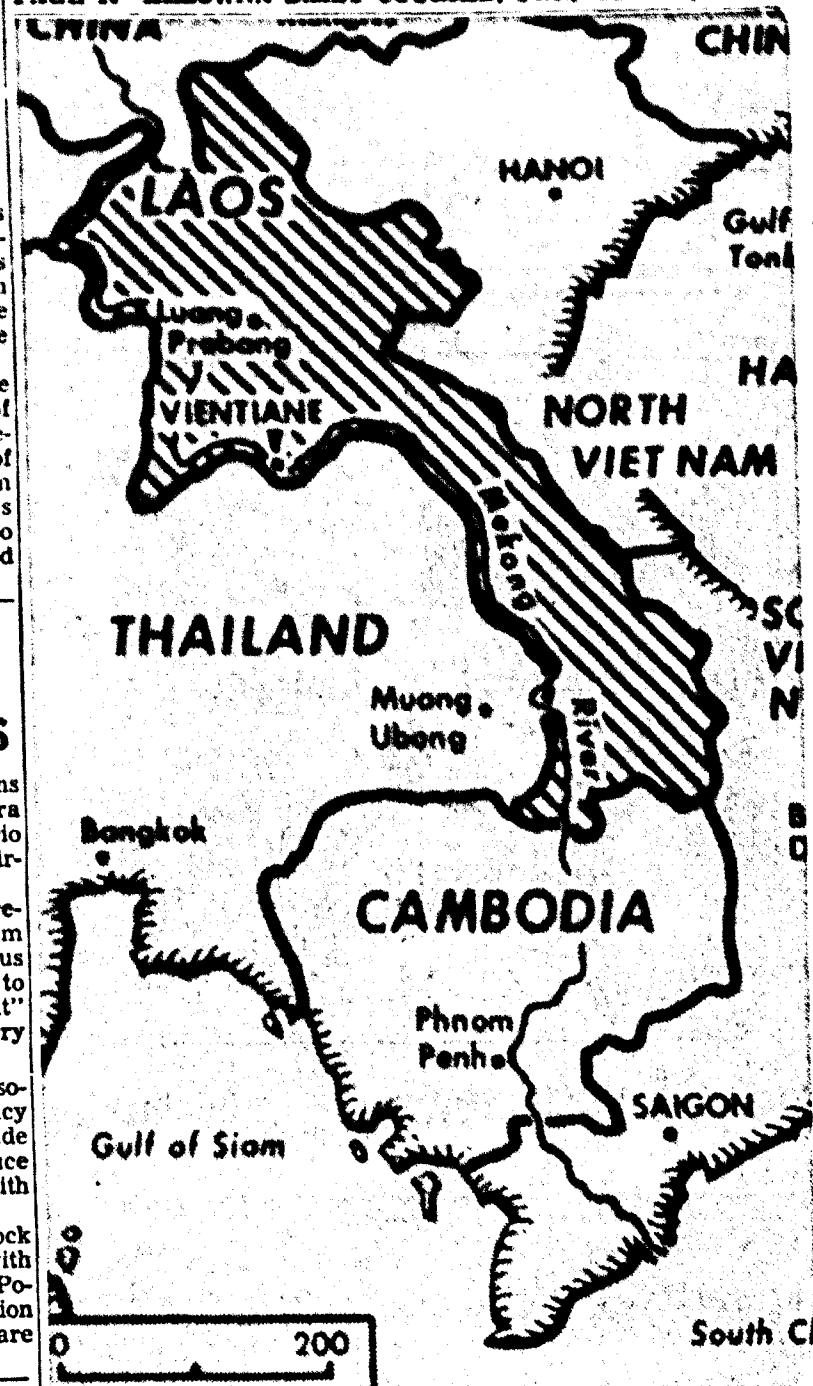

WEST MONTROSE, Ont. (CP)—Ontario's only remaining covered bridge is being renovated after local historical society members successfully fought against its demolition in the path of progress.

The 196-foot, 79-year-old bridge across the Grand River, 15 miles northwest of Kitchener, was to be replaced by a metal span. The highways department, according to tradition, now has agreed to repair it.

The covered bridge, made principally of white pine, has 20 shutter-type windows, like venetian blinds, which let in some light. Old lanterns still hang from the roof, but are being converted to electricity.

Highways department officials say the roof has protected the roadway from rotting. Though too narrow for two cars to pass,

Delinquent Boys Learning To Be Paratroopers

RIVERS, Man. (CP)—Boys at a Manitoba correctional institution are learning to be paratroopers.

Residents of the Manitoba Home for Boys have completed two weeks training as the only cadet corps in Canada affiliated with an airborne army unit. Since 1949 the Manitoba Special Air-Service Cadet Corps, No. 745, Portage la Prairie, has trained at the Canadian Joint Air Training Centre here.

The boys, between 14 and 17 years old, take an abbreviated course given to regular paratroopers. Training highlight for 75 youths this summer was jumping from a 35-foot tower, suspended by risers and pulleys, power far outside the range of Sixty-two class members were awarded "Clipped Wings," proof of three good jumps. W. J. Davidson, chief air corps instructor, said 75 cadet-trained delinquents had joined the armed services after release from the home. Twenty-five youths had qualified as airborne soldiers and served in Korea and West Germany.

"If we can keep a couple of these boys out of trouble the effort is more than paid for," said an instructor.
